

Specialist Endocrinologist - Tasmania

- Modern hospital in an attractive regional city
- Opportunity to develop the existing diabetes care service
- Relocation allowance and accommodation assistance provided

Prescript is partnering with a 300-bed public hospital in Tasmania to find an experienced Specialist Endocrinologist to provide high quality patient care to a growing regional population.

About the Hospital

Dedicated to providing the highest standards of healthcare to its community, the hospital fosters a commitment to best practice and continuous improvement, education and research. You will join a referral hospital that provides services to around a quarter of a million people, seeing close to 25,000 inpatients and around 224,000 outpatients each year.

The Department of Medicine has a strong research culture with many physicians conducting independent and clinical trial based research with affiliation with the Clifford Craig Medical Research Trust.

Strong teamwork and close professional relationships with colleagues and communities are all hallmarks of Tasmanian healthcare. Medical professionals from all over Australia and the world work together to combine their unique perspectives, skills and experience. You will be working in an inclusive environment that's committed to equity and diversity.

Many doctors who make the move to Tasmania advance rapidly in their careers as they are able to expand and develop their management and specialist clinical skills.

About the Location

Your new city, like the rest of Tasmania, is a good example of good things coming in small packages and is ideally nestled at the head of a beautiful valley. The city has grown around a pretty port which has a fascinating history and a vibrant modern-day culture.

The region's natural beauty is truly staggering and it has also has developed a well-deserved reputation for fine wine, excellent food from the local surrounds, and a buzzing vibe in which to enjoy all these good things.

About You

To be able to apply for this position, you must hold FRACP or equivalent, be eligible to apply for registration with AHPRA and be able to demonstrate professional competence as a Consultant Endocrinologist or Advanced Trainee in Endocrinology. A passion for regional healthcare is also essential in order to be considered for this role.

Sound Interesting?

With its combination of a friendly team culture, extensive professional development opportunities and a focus on work-life balance, you'll no doubt want to get all the details about this great position.

Please note: locum Endocrinologist cover is required at this hospital from July 2017 ongoing, so if you already hold FRACP and specialist registration with AHPRA, there is the possibility of working as a locum in the short term. The daily locum rate is $2,500 including superannuation.
