Andrology Symposium

“Improving Men’s Health - Research Horizons in Andrology”

Monash Medical Centre, Clayton, Victoria

Saturday 28th November

8:30 – 5:00 pm

This is an initiative of the DFG-funded PhD training program joint between Monash University, Melbourne and Justus-Liebig University in Giessen, Germany, with the title "Molecular Pathogenesis of Male Reproductive Disorders".

This one day Symposium follows on from our annual scientific review and is intended to draw together our National and International colleagues who will collectively provide an update on clinical and basic research in Andrology. This will be a unique opportunity for a day of discussion of the Andrology field and how we might find way to move the field forward in the future.

Registration is free (<http://goo.gl/forms/4c06zEIyvW>) and there will be an opportunity for students to present their data in poster format within the program.

Senior Lecturer

Diabetes Medicine, School of Medicine, Western Sydney University

- Reference No. 1472/15
- Campbelltown Hospital Location
- Part-Time at 17.5 hours per week, Fixed Term Position for 5 years

The School of Medicine is seeking to make an academic appointment at the level of Senior Lecturer in Diabetes Medicine. The School of Medicine pursues excellence in education and research, and aims to teach students in a way that is contemporary and highly relevant to their eventual careers. Our affiliation with the Local Area Health Service highlights a dual aim of attracting current and future medical leaders to the region, and in turn improving the provision of health care to the Greater Western Sydney community.

This position will be principally located at Campbelltown Hospital but also with access to the state of the art teaching and research facilities at the Campbelltown Campus. The Senior Lecturer in Diabetes Medicine will contribute to teaching, research, and administration in the School of Medicine. The appointee will be committed to the education of future medical practitioners, and will contribute to the discipline of Medicine locally and internationally.

The successful candidate will be involved in the delivery of Health Care at Campbelltown Hospital which will involve clinical and administrative responsibilities within the Medicine Unit as directed by the Professor of Medicine. The challenges of this role will include working across both the University and Health Service where the incumbent will have clinical responsibilities.

This is a part time (17.5 hours per week) appointment. The successful applicant may also be eligible to apply for a fractional (0.4 FTE) appointment with the South Western Sydney Local Health District which would be remunerated separately.

For further details outlining the responsibilities of this position, please refer to the position description. If you are interested in applying for this position, you are required to apply online via <http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/employment> and address each selection criteria.

Remuneration Package: Senior Lecturer (Academic Level C) pro rata $61,461 to $70,496 p.a. (comprising pro rataSalary of $55,509 to $63,760 p.a.; 9.5% Superannuation and Leave Loading). In addition to base salary a pro rata Clinical Loading will be paid where eligible.

Position Enquiries: Professor David Simmons, Professor of Medicine, Campbelltown (02) 4620 3306 to discuss your application prior to submission or email da.simmons@westernsydney.edu.au

Applications Close: 1 November 2015
